World Championship 1975

Spassky and Fischer did more to promote and popularize chess in the 1972 championship than has any other person or event in the history of the game. The stage is now being set for another similar clash, Russian vs American. Let us hope that the match is conducted in a smooth manner and that both participants play in the spirit that the game is intended. (Too much to ask?)

Anatoly Karpov defeated Viktor Korchnoi with 3 wins 2 losses and 19 draws to be eligable to play Bobby Fischer in June for the championship. However, as of the Feb. issue of chess life and review nothing official has been stated as to whether or not Fischer will play. Several articles appeared in local newspapers that vaguely hinted that he would. But I have yet seen any official statement.

If Fischer does not make a statement by April 1, the title will be awarded to Karpov.

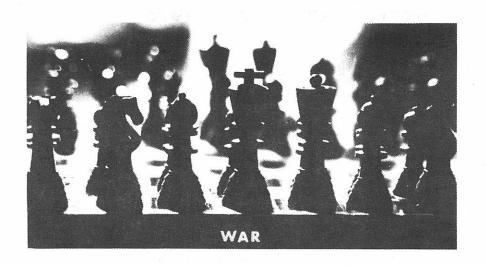

Fischer resigned his "FIDE" title in June but the resignation was not accepted. The whole mess reaks of publicity. If indeed the match is held it will be at Manila, Phillipines. Bids were takes on Jan. 1. Mexico City pretended to bid with $387,500. Milan Itally didn't want to be embarassed but was anyway with only $426,250. Manila who has held several important tournaments successfully, won the bid with $5,000,000. The $5,000,000 will be distributed as follows-$3,125,000 to the winner and $1,855,000 to the "loser?"

With several million dollars and the World Chess Championship at stake. I think there will be a match, And it should be a good one.

Across an open field, campfires burn throughout the night.

And men we do not know nor love nor hate

Are now just shadows at a distance while we wait.

Dawn's battle will not bring wrong nor right

But will make of some men cowards and some heroes,

Yet sadder things it makes of women-widows.

Chess yields us, when we need them most companions for our loneliness Mu'Tazz

Chess is as much a mystery as women. -Purdy

Orange Countians Invade Congress

The National Chess Congress, one of Southern California's magor tournaments was recently held on Febuary 15, 16, and 17. The six round event boasted such names as Canadian Champion Peter Biyiasas and senior master Kim Commons. It was a very strong tournament and Orange County was well represented. Orange County's top three players, Robert Snyder(2290), William Batchelder(2225), and Robert Gaunt(2206) all competed for top places in the tournament. Throughout the tournament there was no sign of a clear winner, so the last round promised to be interesting. Commons who lost two games in a row withdrew from the tournament. This left David Strauss (a strong master from Riverside and California State Champion) with a half point lead over the field.

Strauss found himself across the board from Robert Snyder in the last round. After only five moves Strauss offered a draw-Snyder accepted. This gave Strauss a tie for first with a 5-l score and Snyder a tie for third at 4 and a half-l and a half. On second board it was Gaunt vs Biyasas, after a long game Biyasas scratched up a win in the endgame. This also gave Biyasas a 5-l score and a tie for first Batchelder scored a win in the final round giving him a tie for third with Snyder. The only other Orange County player was Richard Glass an expert who won in fine style against master Nick DeFirmian in the final round.

Out of the 34 players in the tournament only 4 were from Orange County and we had two of them place in the tournament winning prizes.

CHESS BOOM

By USCF MASTER Robert M. Snyder

During and after the 1972 Fischer-Spassky match there was a tremendous boom in chess. Everyone went wild stores couldn't stock enough sets, the local chess clubs couldn't handle the crowding of people. The match was a front page item.

Now with Bobby Fischer to play Karpov in Manila for the World Championship title you can be sure that the $5,000,000 match will be even more popular. It is time to get ready; buy your books, take instruction, join your local club now and have the advantage of the head start. Of course knowing Bobby Fischer means that anything can happen, but what ever does happen will be a boost to American Chess.

The following game is from the 1973 Greater Los Angeles Open which was the Region 8 Championship (Western U.S.). The over 250 player tournament was a product of the 1972 match. The game gave me a 5-0 score to tie for first place in the tournament.

On Passing

by Cal Olson

Since my club planned a tournament to be called the Oldrich Duras Open one of the questions I've been asked frequently is, "Who is Oldrich Duras?"

To quote Edward Lasker from his book Chess Secrets, "...Duras, one of the strongest players of the last generation, who, strange to say, is almost unknown to the younger American players of today."

Duras was born near Prague in Czechoslovakia on October 30,1882. In his first international tournament at Hilversum in 1903 he placed second, half a point behind the winner Paul Leonhardt. At Barmen in 1905 Duras tied for first with Akiba Rubinstein in the Hauptturnier A division.

In 1906 Duras had two important successes: Ostend where he won the double round Rice Gambit Tournament and, more important, at the very strong tournament in Nurnberg where he placed second behind Frank J. Marshall but ahead of such names as Schlechter, Tchigorin, Tarrasch, Vidmar, and Spielmann.

At Vienna in 1907 Duras had to be content with another second place, this time below Jacques Mieses. But in 1908 he won two strong tournaments in Vienna where he tied for first place with Geza Maroczy and Karl Schlechter.

His reputation as a player was then firmly established. Duras was considered to be a likely candidate for the World Championship.

In the famous St. Petersburg tournament of 1909 Duras tied with Spielmann just below the co-winners Emanuel Lasker, who was at that time the World Champion, and Rubinstein.

The Seventeenth Congress of the German Chess Federation held at Hamburg in 1910 was an important tournament. Duras placed second, a half point behind Schlechter but winning their individual game, in a field that included most of the strongest Masters of the day.

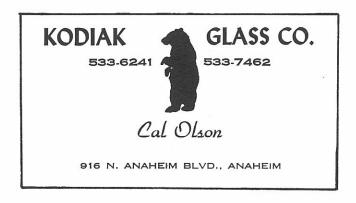

During 1911 Duras seems to have experienced a slump being able only to tie for eighth thru eleventh places at Carlsbad and tying for thirteenth at San Sebastian. And in early 1912 at San Sebastian he was able only to finish in seventh place.

But in 1912 he reasserted himself by tying for first with Rubinstein at Breslau against formidable opposition.

Duras was playing in the tournament at Mannheim in 1914 which was interrupted by the start of the First World War. After this he retired permanently from active play, although he continued to compose chess problems and endgame studies for which he became well known.

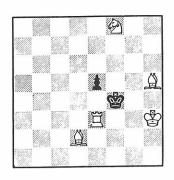

He was awarded the title of International Grandmaster by the World Chess Federation (FIDE) in 1950.

He died on January 5, 1957 in Prague.

SIMUL

Sunday afternoon Febuary 9th at the Chess Collection master Robert Snyder conducted a simultaneouse chess exibition. Although the rain that day did keep many at home, 16 anxious chess players did weather the storm.

Only one challenger, Robert Messenger rated 1520 defeated the master. When asked about his victory he humbly replied that he was just lucky. Lucky indeed, Messenger played a very strong game along sound but aggressive lines. The game went as follows-
