

BLACK BISHOP CHESSMEN CROWNED CHAMPIONS

Winning the last two league games, Hayward's Black Bishop Chess Club was crowned the champ of Alameda County.

The last game, on April 5, was played at Berkeley. At the first board was Anthony Massa of Hayward and Nielen Hultgren, whose game was not finished.

Allen Wolverton of Hayward on the second board beat Jan Tarski. On the third board Don Tambini of Hayward won over Alfred Woulf. Harold Almond of Hayward beat Khere Ritter. At the fifth board Frank Kendall of Hayward lost to Matej Benes. Norman Wellbaum of Hayward lost to Richard Arnold on the sixth board. Keith Rogers of Hayward beat Rudolph Stohler on the seventh and last board.

The team also won their game played against the California School for the Blind at Berkeley on April 3 with a score of 5-2 games. The Black Bishops have held the championship since 1932, and this year Berkeley took second place in the league.
