CUNNINGHAM WINS CALIFORNIA OPEN

Walt Cunningham of Arcadia won the California Open, held at the Californian Hotel in Fresno September 1-3, by the score of  $6\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ . Cunningham won six games outright and drew one game with Bill Addison of San Francisco, runner-up. Addison scored 6-1, and there were six players tied for third with  $5\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$  scores.

Cunningham, who is also California college champion and last year's junior champion, beat out a strong field of masters and experts to win the trophy and the $105 first prize. In the Reserves Section, Harold Zwerdling of Downey won the trophy. The tournament director was Herbert T. Abel.

SAIDY WINS PACIFIC AND SOUTHWEST OPEN

A new event to southern California chess circles, the Pacific and Southwest Open, was won by a newcomer to the area, Dr. Anthony Saidy of New York. The new tournament, a very strong one which carried a first prize of $300, was conceived and executed by Herbert T. Abel and held at Santa Monica.

THE CALIFORNIA OPEN, ROUND BY ROUND

The large job of the sign-up of the 100 players in the 1962 California Open having been completed on Saturday morning, September 1, tournament director Herbert T. Abel sorted out his pairing cards and announced the first round games. This round is between the "sheep" and the "goats" and only one or two "sheep" registered upsets. Ex-champion Tibor Weinberger of Los Angeles was shocked by Michael Leidner of Canoga Park; Sven Almgren, a former champion, was held to a draw by Clare Ulrich, both of Hollywood; and John Blackstone of Saratoga was held to a draw (if this can be considered an upset) by Joseph Lee of Union City, N.J.

Round Two, the afternoon round on the first day and the second of the two 30-moves-per-hour rounds, went along on schedule except that Almgren and Blackstone met head on as both were trying to atone for the first round, and the veteran master Almgren was beaten.

Round Three, on Saturday night, started the 40-moves-in-two-hours rounds and wound up an exhausting day's play. As the high-rated players settled down to work in earnest, the usual upset was recorded when State co-champion Irving Rivise of Los Angeles was defeated by Enos Wicher of Claremont.

When Round Four started on Sunday, there were nine players with perfect scores. Walt Cunningham of Arcadia was paired with Stephen Matzner of Los Angeles in a rematch of the California college championship's key game, and Cunningham won again. Bill Addison of San Francisco drew with Ray Martin of Simi (in retrospect this was the decisive game of the tournament), F. Turim of Palo Alto defeated Ron Gross of Compton, Bob Cross of Los Angeles drew with Rex Wilcox of Salinas, and Wicher lost to Blackstone.

Round Five began on Sunday night with only two perfect scores, and the tie was broken when Cunningham beat Turim. In the  $3\frac{1}{2}$  point group Addison beat Wilcox, Martin beat H. Noland of Chico (who had upset the veteran Sidney Weinbaum of Los Angeles in the previous round), and Cross drew with Blackstone.

Round Six started early on Monday morning with Cunningham having the only perfect score. There followed Addison and Martin with  $4\frac{1}{2}$  points. Cunningham was paired with Addison, and Martin was paired with Turim. Both games were drawn, leaving Cunningham still alone on top.

Round Seven gave Martin a chance to knock Cunningham off his throne, but the youngster won the game. Addison won a clear second place by beating Blackstone in a good game. Roy Hoppe of San Francisco and Don Foley of San Jose started the round even with Addison and Martin, but fell back to a tie for third with a draw.

Meanwhile, the Reserves Section had been set up after the fourth round, comprising those with less than 50% scores. Harold Zwerdling of Downey won three straight, carried over  $1\frac{1}{2}$  points, and took the trophy with  $4\frac{1}{2}$  points. There was a tie for second place by Joseph Lee and Dan McLeod of Millbrae.

The prize money was the same as last year: Cunningham took home $105 and the trophy. Addison received the $75 second prize. Turim, Foley, Hoppe, Andrew Schoene, Rivise, and Noland divided third through eighth prizes for $36 each, and the 5 pointers Martin, Bob Baker, Cross, Blackstone. Weinberger, Curtis Wilson and Matzner received $14 each.

	stone, Weinberger, Curtis Wilson and Matzner received $14 each.

LEIGHTON ALLEN CENTRAL CALIFORNIA CHAMPION

The annual Central California Chess League championship and qualifying tournament for the state championship finals was won by Leighton Allen of San Jose, formerly from San Francisco, who scored a clean sweep in the 4-round Swiss. Allen is the first qualifier to join state co-champions Irving Rivise and Tiber Weinburger and open champion Walt Cunningham in the finals to be held in San Francisco in November. The cross-table (not in round order):

TONY SAIDY WINS PACIFIC AND SOUTHWEST OPEN

Dr. Anthony Saidy, who recently moved from New York to Los Angeles, scored five wins and one draw to win the \$300 first prize in the 6-round Swiss held at Santa Monica August 3-5, 1962. Saidy, Bill Addison of San Francisco, and Paul Quillen of Glendale had the only perfect scores as the fifth round started. Saidy was paired with Addison, while Quillen was paired with Carl Pilnick, the highest-rated player with  $3\frac{1}{2}$  points. The Saidy-Addison game resulted in a wild time-scramble, with flags falling, neither player keeping score, and 55 moves made at the adjournment instead of the 50 moves required. In the adjourned position Saidy was material ahead, and he scored the win. Meanwhile, Quillen and Pilnick played to a draw.

In the last round Saidy played Bob Cross and Quillen played Tibor Weinberger. As Quillen lost, Saidy agreed to a draw and remained alone with  $5\frac{1}{2}$  points. Pilnick, Addison, Cross and Weinberger tied for second through fifth places and won \$63.75 each, with Addison received an additional \$100 for the best score for a player from outside of Los Angeles County.

There were 80 contestants, a great success for Herbert T. Abel, who not only directed, but also conceived the idea and carried it through all the organizational stages to establish the Pacific and Southwest as another fixture in the southern California chess galaxy.

"UNKNOWN" WINS CALIFORNIA JUNIOR TITLE

Fifteen-year-old Kenneth Pfeiffer of Santa Monica scored his first major tournament win at the Herman Steiner club in Hollywood in July when he outpointed a 46-man field with a fine  $6\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$  score. What turned out to be the decisive game came in the second round when Pfeiffer defeated defending champion Walt Cunningham of Arcadia, the highest-rated player in the tournament. Pfeiffer drew a game in the fourth round with Tom Lux of San Diego.

Cunningham recovered quickly from his defeat and ran up a winning streak of five straight games, but his score of 6-1, identical with his winning score of 1961, was only good enough for second place this time. Ronald Larsen of Inglewood took third prize with a  $5\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$  score, while four players tied for fourth with 5-2 scores: Rod Freeman, Tom Lux, Richard Castle, all from San Diego, and Tom Dorsch of Oakland.

Special prizes were awarded for: Class A, Ed Bogas of San Carlos; Class B, Virgil Neuman of San Diego; Class C, David Mortz of South Gate. The Steiner club put into competition a new perpetual trophy, individual trophies, merchandise prizes, and also provided lodging for 16 visiting players. Ample refreshment was always on hand for lunch and dinner breaks.

Credit for the smooth and successful operation of the tournament goes to tournament director Jerry Hanken and his able assistants John Guilaroff and Hy Rogosin. We hope to obtain a cross-table of the tournament for an early issue.

In the latest USCF ratings, Bill Addison of San Francisco appears to have gained the highest ranking of any California player. True, other notable Californians have not participated in recent rated events, but Addison's consistently good results in all the major local tournaments show that his high rating is no fluke.

In the California Open this year, we had the opportunity to observe another interesting fact: almost all his games are full of interest. It is even difficult to select a single game for the purposes of this column, so we present a selection below, and let the reader judge for himself which one is the Game of the Month.

The doubled King Pawns are an apparent weakness, but fit in well with Black's plan of delaying castling and advancing on the Kingside. It is interesting to note this same strategy (once experimented with by Alekhine) appear in at least one other game of Addison's from the same tournament (see below).

Treasurer RALPH K. HAGEDORN of the Southern California Chess League and former V-P of the CSCF, he was liked by any and all of us who knew him in the chess world and due to his devotion and service to the league and his own No. Hollywood club, almost all chess players knew him. He directed many top tournaments including the So. Calif. Championship, in past years and did a great job as league Treasurer in recent years. A fine, quiet man always ready to help, always ready with advice, Ralph will be very much missed by all of us but forgotten by none. He died on August 20th after a sudden neart attack at work.

Goodbye, Ralph. We'll remember.
