Wanted to let you know that my address is changed to the one shown on the reverse.

I think your articles on the Fischer affair, by Arkroyd and others, have been far more informative than materials I have seen in American chess publications.

Same goes for the stuff you managed to get on the Stamford--Lenin Institute computer match. That first game the Russian computer won there seems to me to indicate a highly sophisticated program. (My story THE 64-SQUARE MADHOUSE wasn't so far off the mark.)

All best,

Fritz Lieber
