San Francisco 10,

Dear Mr. Reynolds:

It is about time we told you how much happiness you bring to the boys at Letterman Army Hospital by playing chess with them each week. They say you often play blind fold which makes it especially interesting for them. We are quite sure that once they are involved in a chess game they forget their aches and pains and troubles. We know that you must derive a great deal of satisfaction when you note the difference in them between the time of your arrival and leave taking.

Thanks for being such a faithful volunteer.

Yours very truly,

Helen E. Mosier
